BILLY BRYAN CITY ROUND UP.

Will Find Everything Ready Police Court the Principal Feature of Today's Event.

MAYON YEISER AND OTHERS PICKPOCKETS GET IN THEIR WORK

Go Up to Princeton to Meet Him Big Crowds Arriving.

THE THROG WILL BE AN IMMENSE ONE.

Congressman Chas. K. Wheeler, Mayor D. A. Yeiser, and Messrs. J. M. Werten, C. M. Leske, J. E. Robertson, Jas. M. Lang, W. C. Clark, Jas. Lemon, Ed Ware and Jones, of the city, and W. P. Galtin, of Murray, left on the 8 o'clock train this morning for Princeton, to meet Hon. W. J. Bryan. At the Union Depot they were joined by Messrs. Gus Coulter, Wheeler Anderson, J. D. Hudgens and Gus Thomas of Mayfield. They will return on the special train this afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Bryan will be entertained by Congressman Wheeler, after which he will be escorted to Yeiser Park and begin speaking at 8 o'clock. Tickets have been issued to members of the press and others for seats on the platform.

Mr. Bryan will be accompanied by many men of prominence, including several newspaper men from Louisville.

Large crowds are expected from all directions. Gentlemen from Mayfield say that hundreds will come up, while a special train of twelve coaches will come up the N. C. & St. L.

An excursion came in this afternoon from Smithland, and one thing is certain, the park will never hold the crowd, hence there will be a scramble. People will be fortunate in getting a view of the defeated candidate for President.

The special train is due at 6:30 p.m. from Princeton, and is expected to make extra ordinary time.

At noon about fifty people came in to attend the speaking from points above on the I. C. and at 1:45 a special train arrived from Newbern bringing several hundred additional visitors. Many others arrived on the regular passenger at 2:45, and many are expected from points above on the 6 o'clock passenger that precedes the special.

An immense crowd came in over the N. C. & St. L. and the Cowling brought as many as she could hold from Metropolis.

A committee will meet Mr. Bryan and party at the depot. At the park a commodious rest room has been constructed for Mr. Bryan and distinguished visitors in addition to newspaper men and stenographers. There will be many newspaper men here from a distance, and the speech will be taken down in short hand by at least two expert stenographers.

The Newbern special brought in 450 people this afternoon.

Bryan's special leaves Princeton at 5 o'clock and arrives here at 6:30.

This afternoon the people began going to Yeiser park soon after noon, and at 3 o'clock the yard was full of them, some lying under the trees asleep. There were several hundred already there at press time.

WHITECAP OUTRAGE.

But They Attacked the Wrong Negro.

Shots Returned and One Man Killed and Four Wounded.

Race War Imminent.

Milan, Tenn., Oct. 13.—White caps last night attacked the home of a negro named Dot Price, by firing into his house.

Price returned the shots and killed one of the white caps and wounded four others, all white men.

The excitement is intense, and a race war is imminent. All the guns and ammunition in the town have been sold.

SHOULD BE HANGED.

The Newport Assailants on Trial Today.

Newport, Ky., Oct. 13.—The assailants of Mrs. Gleason are on trial here today.

IMMENSE CROWDS

Hearing Bryan Speak Today on His Way Here.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 13.—Immense crowds are listening to Hon. W. J. Bryan today at the fair grounds. He speaks at Kuttawa on his way to Paducah.

Wharfaster Saunders Fowler and Capt. Mark Cole have returned from Evansville, where they attended the Waterways Convention. Resolution were passed asking that the Ohio river at this point receive attention for the protection of the manufacturing interests and the ice harbor. Before anything can be done, however, a survey will have to be made.

The Willing Workers of the German Evangelical church will meet with Mrs. Will Scott, 215 Trimble street tomorrow afternoon.

MYSTERIOUS INJURY.

Young Man Found Near the Coal Dock.

HE IS BADLY PARALYZED.

Had Been Sent Down After a Sack of Corn—Found Unconscious.

THOUGHT TO BE VERY BADLY HURT.

FUNERAL TOMORROW AT 2 P. M.

Joe Ross, a 15-year-old boy, who lives six miles from the city on the Tennessee river, just above the mouth of Clark's River, was found in a critical condition near the coal dock at the foot of Court streets this morning shortly before 7 o'clock.

He was lying partly across and partly between two skiffs, and was first found by the watchman on the dock.

In a short time, G. Moyer, his step-father, was at the dock, having gone down to ascertain what detained his step-son, whom he had sent down to the skiff after a sack of corn he wished to have ground.

They came down in a skiff before daylight this morning, and after landing and tying up their boat they went to the market house.

The step-father then sent the boy after the corn and being alarmed at his prolonged absence went down to search for him.

He found that the boy had already been found. His hands and face were besmeared with coal dust, and his feet were in the water. He was irrational, and could give no account of himself. It seemed that he had fallen, and his spine was hurt. He was taken to the city hall and placed on a cot, where his cries of pain could be heard for quite a distance. He could not lie down, but constantly sat in a stooping posture, eyes half closed, with head swaying from side to side. He moved his hands constantly, as one trying to swim.

He is subject to epileptic fits, and probably fell from an attack and was thus injured.

Doctors Brothers and Robertson made an examination of the boy this morning, and found him suffering from paralysis of the brain. There are no signs of violence on his person, however, and they could not account for the injury.

His step-father said the statement that the boy had been subject to fits was erroneous. He has had chills and headaches, but no fits. He has never had any trouble with his head except headache.

City Physician Williamson declined to admit the boy to the city hospital, as he is a non-resident, and Mayon Yeiser being out of the city, the patient was compelled to spend the day on a cot in Judge Sanders' office.

The track is now in perfect condition, and from indications there will be nothing to mar the success of the meet. All the prominent merchants have agreed to close up on Friday afternoon.

The following is a list of business houses who have agreed to close on Friday, October 15, from 12 noon to 3 p.m., for the big National Bicycle meet:

American-German National bank, Citizens Savings bank, City National bank, First National bank, Paducah Bank, Banking company, L. B. Ogilvie & Co., Purcell & Thompson, Paducah Cycling works, Max Hecht & Co., J. W. Gleaves & Son, Wahl & Sons, Friedman, Keeler & Co., Hank Bros. & Jones, Clark & Reed, Nelson Soule, W. B. Seaton, until lately an amateur, won several fine races in Louisville yesterday from professionals.

Judges:—A. Ford, Owensboro; S. A. Fowler, Frank Rieke.

The street parade Thursday night promises to be a grand success. Roy Dawson is managing the same, and everybody is invited to take part, especially the ladies and children.

Lanterns can be had free of charge at Van Culon Bros.' by those who desire to participate.

On account of so many entries having been received it has been decided to run trial heats in the morning; the semi-final and finals which will be composed of the cream of the cracks, being run in the afternoon, which, with the exhibition of Clarice McLean, the trick rider, will be as many as can be run, from 2 p.m. until dark.

Including morning trial heats there will be twenty-five races run Friday.

Several new entries have been received lately, including:

John S. Johnson, Indianapolis.

Arthur Gardner, Chicago.

O. Stevens, Ottawa.

McFarland, San Francisco.

The above are professionals; also several amateur entries from Louisville.

Some people are under the impression that the "cracks" the club has been advertising as having entered, is a joke. The L. A. W. will not allow any club to advertise a rider until he has sent in a written entry blank, under a penalty of suspension from their organization. So it can be assured these riders will all appear.

The state railroad commissioners, who have been touring and inspecting the railroads of the state for the past several weeks, will meet at Frankfort next Tuesday to begin the

"UNCLE" THAD JACOBS

Passed Away at 11:05 This Forenoon.

WAS SEVENTY-SIX YEARS OLD.

Had Been a Resident of Paducah Since 1836—Leaves a Wife and Son.

FUNERAL TOMORROW AT 2 P. M.

"Uncle" Thad Jacobs, whose critical illness was mentioned yesterday, died at 11:05 o'clock this forenoon at his home on the Mayfield road, of general debility and a complication of diseases, after a week's illness.

The deceased had been in bad health for several years past. A few years ago he was injured by a train and rendered a cripple, last winter he fell from a porch, but was able to get about until a week ago today, when he went home about 11 o'clock very ill, and never arose again. This morning dissolution came. Judge D. L. Sanders, Mr. W. H. Patterson and several others were present.

Mr. Jacobs was born in Caldwell county, ten miles from Princeton, Ky., on February 22, 1821, and was consequently 76 years old. He came here some where about 1836 and had since resided here.

Years ago he was city marshal, and subsequently operated a ferry line between Paducah and Cairo, his boat being the "Lake of the Woods."

He was afterwards in the livery business and for years was keeper of the county poor house. He was known everywhere for his accurate memory, and for his reminiscences of Paducah, he having watched it grow from a village to a thriving city.

The deceased had been married twice, and leaves to survive him a wife and one son, Lee Jacobs, who was yesterday telegraphed at Greenville, Ky., to come at once, and will arrive.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, burial at Oak Grove.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Commonwealth's Attorney.
Sam Houston is a candidate for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney for the Second Judicial district composed of McRae and Marshall counties at the November election.

NEVER did a political party in Paducah ask for the votes of the people on municipal issues with a better ticket to fight for and a clearer record to point to, than the Republican party of Paducah now has.

It is a noticeable fact that the Democrats of Paducah are strangely silent on the record their party has made in the past in municipal management of affairs. The Democrats are relying solely on being able to whip all Democrats, of whatever belief on the financial question, into line. This policy may have worked in the past, but it won't do so now.

Our Democratic friends must not be put out if Mr. Bryan wears diamonds. The Council Bluff Nonpareil, in a recent discussion of Mr. Bryan's visit to that city, said: "In his shirt front sparkled a handsome diamond," and sundry editors have been pecking away at Mr. Bryan ever since because of the fact. But why should not Mr. Bryan wear diamonds? He levied tribute on the villages at which he spoke during the campaign, wrote a book immediately afterwards, which he got widely advertised gratis, is in constant demand for newspaper articles for which publishers are willing to pay high prices, and now places a tariff of $1,500 apiece on his speeches, riding on his passes to deliver them. William is "working" his presidential candidacy from a financial standpoint with great success. Why, then, should the carpenters find fault if he does wear diamonds.

The Republicans have nothing to be discouraged about as regards the registration. Paducah is no exception; all cities in the state have had the same experience. The custom of the two parties served to bring about the result. The Democratic party holds primaries and no one can participate in them unless they are registered as a Democrat. A man may be a friend on one ticket that he desires to vote for in the final election and yet desire to aid some other friend in the Democratic primary. Hence the temptation is very great to register as a Democrat, for he can not vote in the primary, unless he has done so. The voters have learned this fact and are profiting by it; they register as a Democrat then if they have a friend to support they can support him. The Republicans hold mass conventions and the qualifications are different; hence it is not essential that they register as Republicans. The thing for every Republican to do is to put his shoulder to the wheel; votes are what count; keep up the fight until the last ditch is passed and the fight is over; lethargy is dangerous. Begin at once; every Republican should do his part; don't depend on one or two to do it all but in unity there is strength. Wake up and fight hard.

THE FIGHT IS ON.

The bigger the battle the harder must be the work of every soldier.

The results of the registration should not be discouraging to the Republicans of Paducah. The prize to be won is just as great and the great end to be attained is just as important as it would have been had the results of the registration been more encouraging than they are. The interests of the people of Paducah are still at stake.

We have no guarantee that the Democrats would improve any should they be intrusted again with the control of municipal affairs. The record made by our present council is a flattering one and when it is considered that the council has been greatly handicapped by the opposition of a mangy mayor, the Republican record is indeed remarkable.

There are many reasons for this apparently unfavorable registration. Upon the old-fashioned political lines Paducah would still be a Democratic city. Large numbers of Democrats who are strong adherents to a sound financial currency, are still registering as Democrats.

These Democrats did not vote last year for Bryan, but still believing that the grand old-fashioned party may yet be rescued from the band of political guerillas and reckless demagogues who are now on top in the party's councils, these Democrats prefer to register as Democrats and be in a position to reform their party when the opportunity offers.

Hence we have the same right to look for a large number of sound money Democrats to vote for the Republican ticket and a good business administration of municipal affairs as we had last year to expect such a large majority for McKinley in Paducah.

The registration returns also show a large non-committal or independent vote. There is no question but that the largest part of that vote will go to the republican ticket in this city. Events in the past have amply proved that the independent vote will largely be cast for the party that represents sound money, prosperous times and honest city government.

We thought after the tremendous defeat of the free silver people last fall that free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 was dead. But it is like a snake. Although its head is cut off the tail still wiggles. By the close, however, of McKinley's administration, even the tail will have ceased to move. The free coinage issue would not be mentioned today were it not for the fact that there are many politicians who prefer office to promoting the people's best interests, and these people are still agitating the free coinage issue, and hope by fomenting dissatisfaction to ride into some political office.

We will now make the statement here tomorrow night that he made last year about wheat and silver being twins, that could not rise in value without the other, that silver must be remonetized before wheat could advance in price? He made those statements all over this country last year. But what has happened? We all know that wheat has gone up and silver gone down. Now the point is, can anyone who knew so little about political economy and national finances as to make such statements last year, be believed again in what we will see here tomorrow night?

Bryan was wrong last year, whose explanation he may make does not affect that fact. May he not just as surely be wrong this year? This is a point to be considered in considering Mr. Bryan's speech tomorrow night.

We are told now that wheat has gone up solely on account of foreign demand. But how about bogs and tobacco and all other farmers' products? The truth is that the great foreign demand has been backed up by a new and healthy home demand, created by Republican ideas and the public's confidence in the Republican principles. The Republican party from the day it adopted its first platform has always been right and the people know it.

The most disgraceful feature of this campaign is the attempt of some free silver speakers to array the sections against each other again; to raise old issues long since dead. The war and all its issues are past and gone. The real questions before us are vital ones and on which the sections cannot be divided.

Senator Debooe has paid a glowing tribute to the Sound Money Democrats. The great victory last fall was in part due to them. They had the courage and the patriotism to put country above party. It is no small thing to sever one's connection with a party which you have served for years and a generation perhaps. The sound money democrats are less Democrats today because of the course last fall. The silver people call them bolters and traitors, but it is the free silver people who bolted and betrayed their party. Before Cleveland was nominated, in 1892,

GENUINE REPUBLICANISM.

Magnificent Speech Last Night of Senator W. J. Debooe.

ASPLENDID AUDIENCE HEARS THE SPEAKER.

The Democratic Party of Kentucky Fearlessly Arraigned for Mismanagement.

MATCHLESS RECORD OF THE REPUBLICANS IN STATE AFFAIRS.

A GREAT VOTE-GETTING SPEECH.

A splendid audience greeted Senator W. J. Debooe last night at the opera house, it being, in fact, the largest audience that has listened to a Republican speech in this city for two years. The opera house was filled with attentive listeners of all parties, and a large number of ladies graced the occasion by their presence.

Senator Debooe was introduced by M. Livingston, the next member of the legislature from McCracken county, as being the Republican nominee for that position.

Mr. Livingston said: "I am very glad to have the honor of introducing to you the Hon. W. J. Debooe, the first republican United States senator from the state of Kentucky, who will address you on the issues of the day. I hope you will give him your kind attention."

In opening his remarks, the Senator said that he thought no less of any man for entertaining opinions diverse from his, and that he was in favor of giving to every one the right of holding his own opinion on matters political and religious, and that whatever the differences might be preferred to regard every man as a friend instead of an enemy. That both parties intended to legislate for the best interests of the people he believed to be true; and he gave to all political parties credit for being honest in their views as set forth in platforms and carried out in legislation.

The question now however, is, which party is right? Last year both great political parties claimed to be right on the money question, which was the great question at issue. The Republicans believed last year that they were right and the events of the past few months have amply demonstrated that they were. The country is in a far more settled condition today than last year. The great army of the unemployed has been greatly decreased; factories that had been closed for months and years are now open and running. Labor of all classes is much satisfied. The cause of the great change is simply because the Republican party has been keeping its promises.

The registration returns also show a large non-committal or independent vote. There is no question but that the largest part of that vote will go to the republican ticket in this city. Events in the past have amply proved that the independent vote will largely be cast for the party that represents sound money, prosperous times and honest city government.

We thought after the tremendous defeat of the free silver people last fall that free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 was dead. But it is like a snake. Although its head is cut off the tail still wiggles. By the close, however, of McKinley's administration, even the tail will have ceased to move. The free coinage issue would not be mentioned today were it not for the fact that there are many politicians who prefer office to promoting the people's best interests, and these people are still agitating the free coinage issue, and hope by fomenting dissatisfaction to ride into some political office.

Where the Republicans have complete control Senator Debooe showed that their administration showed a great saving to the people. This is so in the principal department, in the management of the asylums and of the two penitentiaries. In all of these institutions the Republicans have made great savings over Democratic management. The Education chair contract was discussed and the facts given, which show a great gain to the state.

Speaking of the alleged scandals at Eddyville, he said that the Republicans did not do as the Democrats had done with their officials, but Governor Bradley had an investigation at once, which was made public, and the evidence given by Democratic witnesses proved that never before had the offices of the Eddyville penitentiary been so well managed as now. He said the whole trouble at Eddyville was caused by a clerk who wanted to be waded. Also he said these reports were naturally circulated by the Louisville "Capital," an alleged Republican sheet, whose editor was no more a Republican than the rankest free silver man in Paducah.

In closing, Senator Debooe exhorted all republicans to stand by their ticket. Especially did he ask the republicans not to forget their city and county ticks.

The speech of Senator Debooe was enthusiastically received, and was considered the best exposition of republican doctrines that has been made in this city. His remarks on state affairs were made by one who knows what he is talking about, and were right to the point. The republicans are greatly pleased, and feel that Senator Debooe's visit here will make many points to be considered in considering Mr. Bryan's speech tomorrow night.

We are told now that wheat has gone up solely on account of foreign demand. But how about bogs and tobacco and all other farmers' products?

The truth is that the great foreign demand has been backed up by a new and healthy home demand, created by Republican ideas and the public's confidence in the Republican principles.

Senator Debooe has paid a glowing tribute to the Sound Money Democrats. The great victory last fall was in part due to them. They had the courage and the patriotism to put country above party. It is no small thing to sever one's connection with a party which you have served for years and a generation perhaps.

The sound money democrats are less Democrats today because of the course last fall.

The Illinois Central is considering the advisability of moving the dispatcher's office from Broadway and the intersection to the old office near the shops, occupied by the master mechanic previous to his removal to the new quarters. It has not yet been definitely settled what will be done, but it is not at all unlikely that the change will be made sometime in the near future.

The Republicans have nothing to be discouraged about as regards the registration. Paducah is no exception; all cities in the state have had the same experience. The custom of the two parties served to bring about the result. The Democratic party holds primaries and no one can participate in them unless they are registered as a Democrat. A man may be a friend on one ticket that he desires to vote for in the final election and yet desire to aid some other friend in the Democratic primary. Hence the temptation is very great to register as a Democrat, for he can not vote in the primary, unless he has done so. The voters have learned this fact and are profiting by it; they register as a Democrat then if they have a friend to support him.

The people don't want another campaign like last year's. Never was a campaign so much political immorality. The people were taught to defy the government, to despise the courts, that the poor were being robbery and the weak were being oppressed. This was taught you in Kentucky by all your leaders, and what is the result? Toll gate raiders sprang up in almost every county, public and private property was destroyed, and epidemics of lawlessness seemed to break out all over the state.

The speaker said that he would not discuss the money question at length, as it had been so thoroughly discussed by public speakers that the people did not care to be burdened with it. The Senator having referred to the "crime of 1873," the positions of prominent silver people such as Senators Stewart & Jones who were for gold then; the fact that a cheaper money always drives out a dearer one. Free coinage, he said, would drive out gold and so

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

Judges and justices of the peace are frequently annoyed by people who in their own estimation have many grievances. They look at but one side of an affair, and that is their own, and if the judge or justice, from an unprejudiced and more sensible standpoint, views it differently, he is likely to make a life-long enemy of the other.

Yesterday a justice in a legal room had an application from a defendant for a warrant. He alleged he had been grossly mistreated by the owner of the house he occupied, and when the justice, on a slip of paper, wrote and asked him why he did not go to the magistrate in the district in which he lived for a warrant, he wrote in reply that he had been to him, but that the justice refused to issue it because he is a republican, and the complainant a democrat. The real reason was, no doubt, that the man had no grounds for prosecution, but he couldn't see it that way.

Mr. J. F. Perrine, of the Peanut Company, returned a few days since from his old home in Pennsylvania, whither he went to attend an interesting family reunion. He there met his parents and seven brothers. His father is 84 years old, and his mother 79. There were but eight children, all boys, and all are today alive and prosperous, and up to the time of the reunion, the brothers had not seen each other for thirty years.

City Attorney L. D. Husbands was in a reminiscent mood yesterday afternoon when a reporter dropped into his office on Legal Row. "I feel like communing a little with the spirits today," remarked the Colonel with a quiet smile.

"Are you a spiritualist?" the reporter asked.

"No," he replied, "but I once had a very remarkable experience with a medium."

After some persuasion, the Colonel was finally prevailed upon to relate his experience. He was careful, however, to caution the reporter against alluding to him as a spiritualist.

"Well," he began, "I went to see one of those mediums—a boarding house here a few years ago. I went through curiosity, like most everybody else did I guess, and when I knocked on the door, she asked me to remain in the hall until she directed me to open it."

The river still registers below zero, but stationary.

Traffic along the levee this morning was fairly active for the present condition of the river.

The Bob Dudley, the "onliest" Evansville packet, made his appearance here last night, and reported having very little trouble from shallow places. She was away for the upper Ohio again after transacting business here.

"In a short time she opened the door, looked at me a second, and retorted, 'why are you a colonel?'"

"Traffic along the levee this morning was fairly active for the present condition of the river."

The Edgar Cherry arrived here last night out of the Tennessee river to go on the ways for repairs.

Work is rapidly progressing on the fort-y boat Beale Owen, which is now on the cranes receiving the attention of a large gang of carpenters, caulkers and painters, also Engineer Joe Flach is putting her machinery and furnace in tip-top condition and when she comes off is declared ready for service she will rank as a crackjack of the first water.

Capt. Emery Voight, with his crew, the chicken boat, the pretty little stern wheel steamer Lorna Dooce with her refrigerator barge to town, arrived here from the upper Tennessee river late yesterday afternoon with a big cargo of chickens, eggs, hams, which was taken

SPAIN'S REPLY READY.

It Will Say That She Hopes Cuban Hostilities Will Soon Cease.

Madrid, Oct. 12.—It is semi-officially announced that the reply of Spain to the note left by United States Minister Gen. Stewart L. Woodford has been drafted by the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Senor Gullon, and will be submitted to the Cabinet at its meeting tomorrow.

The reply, it is stated, will say that Spain is unable to fix exactly the date when the war will be over, but the Ministers are persuaded it will not be long, because the situation of the rebels is critical, and the efforts of the Spanish troops are sure of success. Owing to the rebel situation and the concession of autonomy, administrative and economic, which will be effective before January, the government hopes hostilities will be over before he died, and used a cane, as she said.

But the strangest part was yet to come. "Here is a lady who wants to come," she began, "and have four children, two boys and two girls. I asked her how many children my parents had, and she said nine, and when I asked her, gave me the correct number of boys and girls. I then asked her the initials of my oldest brother and she gave them, 'J. B. H.' 'I can see him now,' she said, "and how he looks." She has a cane, and when he talks he makes gestures with it."

That was true. My brother was very much best over before he died, and used a cane, as she said.

But the strangest part was yet to come. "Here is a lady who wants to come," she began, "and have four

I. C. HOSPITAL BOARD

Met Yesterday Afternoon in the City.

Cpt. Harahan Here—Repairs Authorized at the Hospital.

Supt. W. J. Harahan has returned to Louisville.

He and Roadmaster A. T. Sabin and others came in yesterday to attend a meeting of the hospital board of directors. There was a full attendance, the board meeting yesterday afternoon.

Nothing of public interest was done, except to authorize repairs at the Illinois Central hospital. The nature of these will be in the way of screens, lattice work and such minor improvements.

THE PRICE OF SILVER

Its Fall Due Principally to Increased Supply Caused by Cheaper Production.

Price Also Affected by Diminished Demand—Coinage Demand Has Decreased Ten Per Cent. Since 1888.

While Production Has Increased 55—Demonstration Act Not Responsible For, But the Result of Lower Prices of Silver—Some of the Factors of Cheaper Production Are Cheaper Transportation, Better Mechanical and Chemical Processes of Treating Ore, Use of Electricity—Immense Deposits of Silver Ore Still in Sight—Silver Is Produced Cheaper in Mexico Because Wages of Miners Are Paid in Silver.

The last number of the Journal of Political Economy contains an interesting article by Edward S. Meade on "The Fall in the Price of Silver." The facts produced by Mr. Meade make it clear that the price of silver has fallen for the same reasons that prices of maize, steel rails, lumber and most other manufactured articles have fallen—improved and cheaper methods of production. In spite of the great decline in price since 1888 production has increased 55 per cent. The rapidly increasing supply of silver and the equally rapid decline in price are undoubtedly responsible for most of the demonetization of the earth will have adopted the gold standard.

The following table shows the world's production of silver, coinage demand and price per ounce from 1888 to 1900.

VS.

BLINDNESS.

The vast amount of blindness occurs through neglect of an optical defect of the eyes not being attended to at the proper time. Many such cases have come under my notice.

The patient has either been shortsighted, long-sighted or astigmatism in one or both eyes; but one to a large extent which they say, is their weak eye, the other having little or no defect (and so I did the case of the weak eye be shortsighted it increases rapidly) the eye with the greatest amount of optical defect gets out of use, similar to a reclining eye: the sight thus quickly deteriorates until it loses all perception of light, some simple accident having occurred to the other eye, causing permanent blindness. Others there are with a large amount of defect in both eyes—it may be long sight as well as mixed astigmatism. They can read for some time by holding the book very close to the eyes, owing to spasm of the ciliary muscles (anterior short-sight) and thus the patients consider themselves near-sighted, and believe they will improve as they get older, but it frequently ends in paralysis of the ciliary muscles with almost total blindness, or just sufficient vision to grope about with. Had spectacles been properly adapted in time to correct the errors of refraction they might have enjoyed good sight all their life-time.

Dr. Goldstein's system of less refraction is perfect, compensating for natural deficiency, while preserving the adjusting power of the normal eye; the large requirement has been nearly or entirely overlooked by most of the opticians of the day. Dr. Goldstein's experience of sixteen years enables him, by most improved method and with the latest scientific apparatus, to correctly test the sight, and by a suitable collection of lenses or spectacles to give relief to and strengthen the eyes for the varied requirements of a professional or private life.
